

THE BOUNDLESS PLAYGROUND- BRUCE PARK, GREENWICH, CT

The junior League of Greenwich and the United Way of Greenwich spearheaded the renovation of the Bruce Park playground. The project was first proposed in 2006, and the ribbon cutting was in June, 2009. The existing playground was restored and transformed into a “Boundless Playground” – a

Connecticut-based national non-profit organization dedicated to helping communities design playgrounds for children (toddlers to teens) with disabilities, making it accessible to children of all abilities as well as the elderly or disabled caregivers.

As a separate but integral piece of the project, Green Fingers Garden Club of Greenwich donated the “Sensory Garden”, using plants native to Connecticut that would stimulate the senses and provide a colorful and natural respite from the playground action.
